After the Bushfires deals with destruction and subsequent regeneration. A series of 6 collages evoke fragmented memories of different views, aspects, and colours seen in the bush after it has been ravaged by bushfire. There are slivered views of blackened trees, shafts of light filtering down to the forest floor, and glimpses of new growth as the bush starts to regenerate.